ALEXIUS LEE

ABOUT ALEXIUS

Alexius has been a legal practitioner in Shearn Delamore & Co since 2003 and was made Partner in 2012.

He specialises in building and construction law in the area of litigation, arbitration (domestic, international, institutional and ad-hoc arbitrations), adjudication (contractual and statutory) and mediation.

He further supports clients with drafting and negotiation of building, engineering and development agreements as well as providing strategic legal advice on the implementation and enforcement of such contracts. In this respect, he has been engaged regularly to prepare and advice on construction and engineering contracts modelled on standard form conditions of contract including the PAM forms, PWD forms, FIDIC forms and IEM forms.

His clients include developers, contractors, sub-contractors, suppliers and specialist consultants within the construction industry, and under a variety of projects including residential housing, office and residential buildings, shopping malls, school and university campuses, concrete batching plants, biodiesel plant facilities, power plant facilities, roads, highways, railways, LRT, MRT and Monorail systems, bridges and other infrastructure, water reticulation systems, sewerage systems and other public utilities, dams, river embankments and waterways, and port cranes and related facilities.

As a qualified adjudicator empaneled with the Asian International Arbitration Centre (AIAC), he has adjudicated on several payment disputes brought under the Construction Industry Payment and Adjudication Act 2012. He is also a fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and an arbitrator empaneled with the AIAC.
